LOCKED IN A BANK.

Alexandria Lady a Prisoner Over Four Hours in a Washington Building.

Miss Fannie B. Hunter, who is so well known in Alexandria was detained for a few hours in the banking house of Louis Johnson and Company, at 1505 Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, yesterday afternoon where her relative, Mr. John Sheldon has an office. When Miss Hunter found herself locked in the building she viewed her plight philosophically and prepared to spend the night in the building. She stoutly refused to give her name to the crowd outside the building, but requested that they notify Dr. Warfield, of Alexandria, to advise her relatives that she would not be home for the night. She then told the crowd that she was going up stairs to bed and ascended the steps of the bank building to the office rooms of her first cousin, John Sheldon a lawyer on the third floor. For some time she has been sharing her cousin's office for the performance of some private business.

Mr. Sheldon left the office yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. Miss Hunter remained in the office and did not notice how late it was. About 5 o'clock, a little girl was passing the building when she heard a tapping on the ponderous bank door. She stopped and listened and then looked through the glass panes in the door. An elderly woman was on the inside. The woman spoke to the little girl but the child was unable to hear distinctly. The girl told passers by of the occurrence, but when they returned the feminine form had disappeared.

About 7 o'clock the police were notified and hurried to the window and asked Miss Hunter her name, but she declined to make it known. Policeman Lambert told Miss Hunter that he would soon have her freed, but she seemed little concerned.

About 9 o'clock William Bell, of the Arlington Fire Insurance Company, which occupies the upper part of the building, and William A. Mearns, of the Lewis Johnson Banking Company, made their appearance with a key.

Entering the office of John Sheldon, they discovered Miss Hunter seated at a desk beneath an electric lamp writing. The men announced that she was free to leave, and she put up her papers and started for Alexandria.

Miss Hunter stated this morning that she did not call for the police but had requested someone outside the window to send a message to Dr. Warfield in Alexandria to notify her relatives that it was her intention to remain all night in Mr. Sheldon's office, as she was locked in the building.

BOYS IN DANGER

This is a season of the year when parents should be very careful in watching their boys who are in the habit of going near the river. Several crowds of little boys go in swimming every afternoon and during the last few days two boys have had narrow escapes from being drowned. Small boys should not be permitted to go in the river unless accompanied by a person who can swim. This is a time of the year when a boy yearns for the water and unless he is carefully watched he will take every opportunity to indulge in a plunge.

OFFICERS IN TROUBLE.

Mayor Paff Investigating Charge Against Policemen and Firemen.

Mayor Fred J. Paff has two investigations on his hands, one involving two policemen against whom charges have been preferred by Chief of Police Goods and the other a disturbance last week at the Columbia Engine House in which two firemen were involved.

The charges against the two policemen are that they entered a saloon in the northeastern part of the city one night last week and remained there about forty-five minutes. Both men are said to have been on duty at that time. Mayor Paff has made a preliminary examination of the charges and has called a special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners to be held tomorrow night in the city hall when the entire matter will be investigated.

Mayor Paff was today busy making an investigation of the trouble at the engine house.

WOMAN SENT TO JAIL.

Officer Bell yesterday arrested a young colored woman named Mary Allen on the charge of inciting a riot and vagrancy. On the night of Monday, the 27th ult., it will be remembered, several Washington negroes came to Alexandria and attempted to run amuck in saloons in the northeastern section of the city. Officer Bell appeared on the scene, when the negroes made a united attack upon him. The officer was shot in the leg and in the thigh during the melee, and the negroes made their escape. Bell, rendering it impossible for him to use his pistol. Several negro women were engaged in the disorder, and when the Allen woman was brought before the Police Court this morning, Officer Bell and two other witnesses testified that while the negroes were attacking the officer she cried out to those of her race to shoot the representative of the law. It was also shown that the woman is a vagrant. Justice Caton sent her to jail for 60 days.

WHITE MAN SENT TO JAIL.

Officer Campbell yesterday arrested a white man named John Furr for begging on the street. Upon being arranged in the Police Court this morning he was simply charged with vagrancy, but the testimony showed he had in his possession when arrested a coat and some ribbon which Emma Cole, one of the witnesses, asserted belonged to her. Furr was asked to give an account of himself, and tell the court where and how he procured the woman's coat and ribbon. The prisoner, in his defence said the owner loaned him the articles. This the woman denied. Furr was sent to jail for sixty days.
